

Wine of the Week

2007 (Oops) Carmenerre, Valle Central ($14): Ripe cranberry and violets, a wild spice note with hints of nutmeg and dried ginger. This Chilean brand has specialized in Carmenerre-based wines, and this stylish red wine has more nuances than can be described here, and part of that occurs after substantial aeration. And it has a cute label.